The Farm – CSA (Community Supported Agriculture) Garden

How is the Farm Part Going to Work?

Throughout the 30 plus year history of the greater 200+ Acre HLV community, there have been professionally managed gardens. Having grown up on a family mini farm just three miles from here, gardening has been part of our founder and developer, Kerry Lindsey's family history since 1950, and now an integral part of the HLV community's DNA.

Every project created here has included a garden. Each has had different functions and levels of access.

- The original garden was the one at the Inn that drove the first garden-to-table concept fine dining offering in the area, the portion of the original garden that went with the sale to the Inn allows their paying guests to walk through their gardens, and they provide a few plots for to HLV residents for private use for a fee, as do we.
- Treska's Garden and Greenhouse adjoins the Hamlet and the Inn properties and is the private property of several generations of the Lindsey Family. Its produce is utilized in family culinary businesses such as here at the retreat center, the girl's school, off premise catering and products for farmers' market operations.
- The third was the farm at the center of the Garden Hamlet that made it a one of a kind vacation rental community, The Garden Hamlet's farm/garden area is used primarily for goats and sheep which provide the main tourist draw for those units. Adjoining garden plots are available to owners on a fee basis.
- The fourth garden area is in the Cove and is used for their culinary events. Although hours of access thru the Cove area are limited due to the privacy our retreat guests expect, we do open those gardens to visit during our farm-to-table culinary events.
- The fifth was laid out by Ed Lastein in the Courtyard area of Unit 11 site plan. Residents to date have chosen to only have grass there although they still have the option for a community garden there if they so choose.
- Lastly, we've gardened in the Farm area on an off for years, and created a CSA (subscription garden) there for Neighborhood residents back in the early days of the development. While the dedicated farm area will continue to operate as an extension of our historic growing operations (i.e. grown and managed by a third party entity) we may have plot and CSA memberships available again to residents of the Farm if there is adequate demand.

Small scale agriculture as a business is a permitted use both in RC and PMUD's, and has been part of our business model since our inception in 1985. We feel strongly that communities should have the capacity to grow part of their own food, and gardens are encouraged on any private lot within this community. It is important to recognize that our growing areas are businesses in support of a particular hospitality or residential experience. As such they retain the rights like any business to set hours, regulate access, create products for new markets and set the conditions for customer participation.

Like any business, the customer participates, or not, at their sole discretion. And the landowner on Lots' 22, 23, 24, 25 26 & 27 are an integral part of the farming story. Please consult the CCRC's, Plats and your sales representative for more details.
